That's the administration's recommendation. Here is what the district's own numbers show.

1. What's actually going on with Athens Area School District's budget and our taxes

Every figure below links to its source: the district's own budget documents, its audited financial statements, Pennsylvania Department of Education data, the teacher contract the board signed, and the U.S. Census. The supply-list and laptop details come from families' own experience. Opinions are kept separate, in My View at the end.

The short version

The district's 2026-27 budget spends $48,904,482 and brings in $47,262,473, leaving a gap of $1,642,009[2][5]. The district ran a deficit in four of the last six audited years: 2019-20, 2021-22, 2022-23 and 2024-25[20].

The district lists five causes for the turn to deficits[1] (p.4):

- ESSER funding running out
- One-time medical access revenue
- Salary increases
- Health insurance
- Cyber charter tuition

Cyber tuition was $1,434,065 in 2024-25, about 3 cents of every dollar the district spent[22][20].

Enrollment is down 263 students since 2009-10, about 12% (2,259 to 1,996)[29][15]. That is about the size of two grades: kindergarten and first grade together were 273 students in 2025-26[15].

Pay and benefits are 68.6% of the budget and grow about $1 million a year[2][20]. The largest tax increase the law allowed this year raised $818,721[1] (pp.7, 19). In the projections on this page, the board's plan needs the maximum tax increase every year going forward and still runs a deficit[33].

Payroll is the deficit

Of every $100 the district budgets for 2026-27, $68.60 goes to pay and benefits: $33,548,646 of $48,904,482[2]. That total grew from $22.8 million in 2015-16 to $31.8 million in 2024-25, about $1 million a year[20]. The drivers are written into the budget and the contract:

- Teacher raises of 3.5%, 3.4%, 3.3% and 3.2% a year under the current contract[9] (p.11)
- Health insurance up 7%, then 8.2%, and budgeted up 13% for 2026-27[1] (pp.4, 6)
- A state pension contribution of 33.59% of every salary dollar[1] (p.9)

What a 3% raise costs: on the median teacher salary of $83,828[17], it is about $2,515 in pay. Pension (33.59%) and Social Security and Medicare (7.65%) ride on top, so it costs the district about $3,550. That cost comes every year, for each of about 160 professional staff[17][1], and it compounds.

The full Act 1 increase raised $818,721 this year[1]. Payroll grows about $1 million. That leaves about $180,000 a year that even the maximum tax increase does not cover, and the gap compounds.

Nothing else in the budget is growing like this. Debt payments are $3.2 to $3.7 million a year and fixed, with the last payment in fiscal 2030-31[3]. Cyber tuition was $1.37 million, $1.64 million and $1.43 million in the last three audited years[22].

The district's general fund balance was $11.0 million in June 2021[20] and $6.9 million in June 2025[1] (p.3). The final 2026-27 budget projects $2.6 million by June 2027[2] (p.26). Only $913,031 is unassigned, less than 2 cents for every dollar the district spends[3] (p.36). In the projections on this page, even with S.R.U. closed, the fund balance turns negative in 2029-30[33].

What the district spends per student

The district spent $23,861 per student (average daily membership) in 2024-25[21]. For a regular-education student who leaves for a cyber charter, the district pays the charter $14,743, the 2025-26 rate[23]. The difference is about $9,100 per student.

The cyber school then provides everything: the laptop and all hardware, plus paper, pens, and paperback textbooks the student keeps. Only the laptop goes back at the end of the year.

For the kids who stay, the district sends home a supply list every year and asks parents to send extras for a supply closet. The list has included coffee for the teachers' lounge. The district also charges $20 a year to insure a laptop the student is required to use, or the full price if it breaks.

Enrollment is down 263 since 2009-10. About 60 Athens students are in cyber charters: 56 in October 2025 and 63 in October 2026[29][14][13]. Roughly three-quarters of the loss is not cyber.

What they cut, and what they didn't

The May 2026 budget presentation (p.13) lists these as eliminated or reduced for 2026-27[1]:

- Did not fill 6 teaching positions
- Eliminated 4 part-time paraprofessional positions. Offset with 1 full-time paraprofessional position
- Eliminated all building-based substitutes
- The district will not pay for graduation gowns - both staff and students
- Students pay for summer school (credit recovery)
- Reduced athletic budget by $100,000
- Eliminated FWF Contract
- Reduced field trip transportation
- Reduced building budgets
- Reduced technology hardware K-5
- Reduced the number of curriculum and financial subscriptions
- Increased summer rec registration fees
- Not renewing contract with Penn York
- Changed vendor or copier/printer maintenance agreement
- Eliminated 3 postage machines

What went through:

- The 3.4% teacher salary increase ($534,817) and the 13% health insurance increase ($729,765), $1,264,582 together[1] (p.6)
- Administrator raises under the Act 93 plan: $2,000 plus 2.5% in 2025-26, then 2.5% a year[11]

Then the board raised taxes 2.93 mills, the full 5.1% Act 1 index, for $818,721[1][2].

Two sentences from the same presentation, ten pages apart:

Page 5: "Administration committed to no furloughs and no program cuts."

Who is getting the raises

The teacher contract the board approved on October 14, 2025 runs through August 31, 2029. It gives 3.5%, 3.4%, 3.3% and 3.2% a year[9]. A first-year teacher with a bachelor's degree starts at $67,030 now and $75,310 in 2028-29. The top of the schedule goes from $101,328 to $109,608[9] (pp.42-43). The median Athens classroom teacher is paid $83,828, and the highest PDE-reported classroom teacher pay is $115,133 (2025-26)[17].

With benefits, a teacher at the top of the 2026-27 schedule costs the district about $171,000 a year. That is $104,068 in salary, plus 41.24% for pension and payroll taxes, plus about $24,300 per position for health and other benefits[9][2]. The contract work year is 187 days[9] (p.8).

Superintendent pay, from the state's own files[17]:

Who is paying for it

U.S. Census figures for the Athens Area School District, 2020-2024[31]:

Measure (Athens Area School District)	ACS table	Estimate	Margin of error
Median earnings, all workers 16+	B20002	$46,879	± $3,435
Median earnings, men, full-time year-round	B20017	$65,919	± $6,413
Median earnings, women, full-time year-round	B20017	$50,494	± $4,959
Median household income	B19013	$66,807	± $8,040
Households under $50,000 (share)	B19001	38.2%	2278 of 5966 households
Residents below the poverty line (share)	B17001	11.9%	1711 of 14361 residents

A first-year teacher's salary ($67,030) is about the median household's entire income ($66,807). A teacher at the top of the schedule ($101,328) makes about $34,500 more than the median household and about $54,400 more than the median worker[9][31].

What the maximum tax increase means for your bill

The school millage has gone from 49.8 (2016-17) to 60.3694 (2026-27)[1][25]. The district took the maximum Act 1 increase the last two years, about 19% total over four years (50.8 to 60.3694)[25][24]. The projections on this page require the maximum increase every year going forward to fund payroll[33]. At about 5% a year (Athens's index has run from 4.9% to 7.7% since 2022-23[24]):

Year	School millage	School tax on a $50,000 assessment	District-wide levy (mills × $279,427)
2024-25	54.3	$2,715	$15,172,886
2026-27	60.3694	$3,018	$16,868,840
2028-29 (projected, 5% index)	66.684	$3,334	$18,633,310
2031-32 (projected, 5% index)	77.1951	$3,860	$21,570,395

That is 23% more on the same house in four years, and 42% by 2031-32, the year after the bonds are paid off. District-wide, the levy goes from $16.9 million this year to about $18.6 million in 2028-29 and $21.6 million in 2031-32, about $4.7 million more a year[2][33].

S.R.U. and cyber students don't fix it

The district's own estimate for closing S.R.U. is $1.72 million in year one and $1.94 million after that[5] (p.4). Of the $2.31 million gross, $2.03 million is positions. If every cyber student came back, the most the district could save is what it paid cyber charters: $1.43 million in 2024-25[22].

Even a flat $1 million a year from returning cyber students does not keep up. The saving stays flat while payroll grows about $1 million a year. Under the board's plan with a 5% index:

Year	Board's plan: surplus / (deficit)	If returning cyber students saved a flat $1M	Remaining
2027-28	-$588,510	$1,000,000	$411,490
2028-29	-$1,324,130	$1,000,000	-$324,130
2029-30	-$2,194,559	$1,000,000	-$1,194,559
2030-31	-$2,395,034	$1,000,000	-$1,395,034
2031-32	-$873,449	$1,000,000	$126,551
2032-33	-$1,884,037	$1,000,000	-$884,037
2033-34	-$2,949,071	$1,000,000	-$1,949,071

Matching staff to enrollment: 19 fewer positions would return total staff (PDE professional plus support) to the 2015-16 ratio of students per staff member[17][18]. The district's own figure is $132,000 per teacher with benefits ($792,000 for six teachers[5], p.4). At that figure, 19 positions is about $2.5 million a year. For comparison, the 2026-27 budget's pay and benefits divided across all 270 positions is $124,254, so $132,000 per teacher sits above the all-staff average[2].

The 2026-27 budget was built on "no furloughs and no program cuts"[1] (p.5). The S.R.U. hearing presentation says "Furloughs may still be necessary"[6] (p.14).

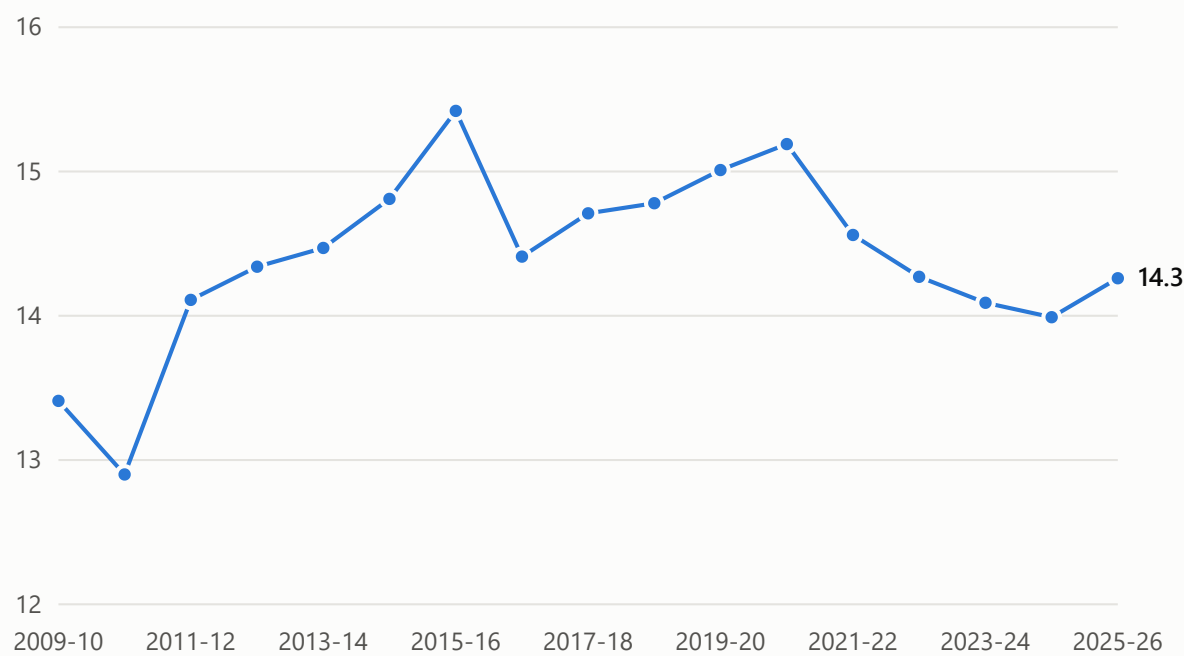

Where this goes

- 2029-30: fund balance negative in the projections, even with S.R.U. closed[33].
- August 31, 2029: the teacher contract ends[9]. In the projections, a pay freeze from 2029 onward balances only in 2031-32, and only with maximum tax increases every year[33].
- Fiscal 2030-31: the last bond payment. About $2.5 to $3.2 million a year frees up starting with the 2031-32 budget[3].
- Act 141 of 2012: if a district is declared in financial recovery, the Secretary of Education must appoint a Chief Recovery Officer, who works with PDE and the district on a Financial Recovery Plan[32].

School millage, 2022-23 to 2026-27

Millage rose from 50.8 to 60.3694 (+18.8%). The district stayed below the Act 1 index through 2024-25 and used the full index in 2025-26 and 2026-27[25][24][2].

3. The story they tell vs. the numbers

The district's case

The final 2026-27 budget shows revenue of $47,262,473 and expenditures of $48,904,482[2] (pp.7, 17). The district's closure documents call the difference, $1,642,009, the "gap to be funded"[5] (p.3). The May presentation showed a smaller loss, $1,520,037[1] (p.12). The district has published a "conservative working net" savings estimate for closing S.R.U.: $1,719,760 in year 1 and $1,943,000 in year 2[5] (p.4). Positions account for $2,026,000 of the $2,308,000 year-2 gross: custodians, two secretaries, six classroom teachers, three specials teachers, a health-room assistant, two behavioral aides and a net administrative change. Transportation savings are booked at $0[6] (p.7). The hearing presentation says "Furloughs may still be necessary"[6] (p.14). No vote has been taken; January 12, 2027 is the proposed decision date[7][8].

Cyber charter tuition: share and trend

Cyber tuition is one of five causes the May 2026 presentation lists for the turn to deficits. The others are the end of ESSER, one-time Medicaid access revenue, salary increases and health insurance[1] (p.4). In the AFR, cyber tuition was 3.0% of General Fund spending in 2024-25. It fell from $1,637,312 in 2023-24 to $1,434,065[22]. After Act 47 of 2025, PDE's revised 2025-26 rates for Athens are lower for cyber than for brick-and-mortar charters: $14,743.46 vs $16,306.41 nonspecial, and $27,865.14 vs $33,697.71 special education[23]. The district's October reports count 56 students in PA cyber charters in 2025 and 63 in 2026[14][13].

ESSER / federal relief

The May 2026 presentation says the district "received $8.4 million in temporary funding from 2021-2024" and that "ESSER funding was fully expensed by 6.30.2024"[1] (p.4). In the AFR, General Fund revenue under federal relief codes (8700-8799) totals $7,957,197 from 2020-21 to 2024-25[20]. The documents reviewed for this page do not itemize what that money bought, so no breakdown is shown.

Administrator pay, 2024-25 vs. 2025-26

The Act 93 plan gives administrators a $2,000 cost-of-living increase plus 2.5% in 2025-26, then 2.5% a year through June 2029[11] (p.2). In PDE's records the formula holds exactly. One principal went from $100,000 to $104,550, which is $($100,000 + $2,000) \times 1.025$. Reported pay for principals and the special-education supervisor rose 4.3% to 4.6%, compared with the teacher contract's 3.5% unit-cost increase for the same year[17][9]. The superintendent's salary is frozen through June 30, 2027, at the superintendent's own request[12]. Full table: Appendix B.

Enrollment, teachers and spending per student

Average daily membership fell from 2,137.2 (2015-16) to 2,009.5 (2024-25). Total spending per ADM rose from $16,228.61 to $23,861.06 (+47.0%)[21]. Students per teacher is in chart 1.

Teaching load and preparation time (teacher contract)

Each professional employee gets "a minimum of one self-directed period daily of at least 40 minutes duration or 225 minutes per week" (Section 4.05)[9] (p.9). Staff are available for duties up to 7 hours 15 minutes a day, excluding a 30-minute duty-free lunch, on a 187-day work year (Sections 4.01-4.02, p.8). We found no clause in the contract that sets a number of teaching periods per day.

4. Ways out (projections, not endorsements)

Framing. Payroll costs recur every year. The district's own S.R.U. savings estimate is mostly payroll ($2,026,000 of $2,308,000)[5]. Debt service ends after 2030-31, which frees about $2.5M to $3.2M a year[3]. Under the board's plan at a 5% index, the model still shows a deficit in every year through 2033-34, even with the maximum tax increase every year.

Assumptions (all of them)

- Base year is the 2026-27 final budget: revenue $47,262,473, expenditures $48,904,482, salaries $18,547,968, benefits $15,000,678, debt transfer $3,772,368, beginning fund balance $4,098,969[2].
- Act 1 index: 5.2% in 2027-28 (published)[24], then 4% (low), 5% (mid) or 7% (high). Each year's maximum increase = prior millage $\times$ (1 + index). One mill = \$279,427 and assessed value is held flat[1].
- Salaries rise 3.3% in 2027-28 and 3.2% in 2028-29, the teacher contract's unit-cost rates[9], applied to all salaries. After August 2029 they rise 3.3% (the 2025-29 contract average, rounded), except in the freeze scenarios.
- PSERS is held at 33.59% of salaries[1] and FICA at 7.65%. State reimbursements for both (7820, 7810) move in proportion to those costs.
- Health and other non-pension benefits grow 8% a year. The district reported +7% and +8.2% in the last two years and budgeted +13% for 2026-27[1].
- Non-personnel, non-debt spending grows 3% a year.
- Debt service follows the audit's maturity schedule[3] (PDF p.41), plus a $117,000 yearly capital-reserve transfer[1] (p.10). Nothing is due after the fiscal year ending June 30, 2031. State building reimbursement (7320) declines with the reimbursable bond series and ends after 2027-28.
- All other revenue (basic education funding, earned income tax and the rest) is held flat at the 2026-27 budget.
- S.R.U. savings use the district's own year-1 and year-2 figures, held flat in dollars afterward[5]. A position removed by attrition saves the district's own per-teacher figure (\$132,000 salary + benefits, from \$792,000 $\div$

6)[5]. A buyout removes the top-of-scale salary ($104,068 in 2026-27)[9] plus salary-based benefits and an average health cost per staff member. The incentive is $15,000 per teacher, the midpoint of a $10,000-$20,000 range.

- "Balanced" means revenue $\geq$ expenditures in that year. The model is arithmetic on stated rules, not a forecast. Script and every output: data/model.py, data/model_summary.csv.

1. Board's current plan

Close S.R.U. in 2027-28 using the district's own savings estimate ($1,719,760 in year 1, $1,943,000 from year 2). Contracts as signed. Maximum tax increase every year. No other staffing or program changes.

2. Close S.R.U. + attrition

Scenario 1, plus 5 more positions removed through attrition over 2027-28 and 2028-29. That brings total staff to the 2015-16 ratio of students per staff member (268 staff for 2,128 students). Matching enrollment takes 19 fewer positions than the 270 reported for 2025-26; the S.R.U. estimate already counts 14 identifiable positions.

My View

Opinion. Everything above this section is sourced; this section is not.

We do not send our kids to school to make sure the teachers get a paycheck.

Look at page 13 of the district's own 2026-27 budget presentation and tell me who is taking from the kids.

Teachers are protected by a contract and a seniority law. The board chose to sign that contract in October 2025 while watching the reserve fund fall. The protection was a decision.

A household earning $46,000 is asked to send coffee for a lounge full of people earning $84,000.

If your employer handed you equipment, made the job impossible without it, and then charged you insurance on it, you'd call that what it is.

The people getting the raises already earn more than the families paying for them.

If you rent, your landlord pays this and so do you. Every business you shop at pays it on its building and so do you. None of it goes to the kids. The kids got cut. It goes to the raises.

The board is holding hearings on closing SRU Elementary as if it were a decision. It is not. The numbers already made it.

Every year the board avoids the hard decisions is a year the taxpayers pay the maximum for nothing but delay, and the eventual fix gets bigger. If nothing changes, families will keep leaving and the state will end up making the decisions the board wouldn't.

D. Energy spending

Year	AFR energy (object 620)	Bill-list electricity checks (object 622)
2015-16	$89,568	incomplete year
2016-17	$396,357	incomplete year
2017-18	$378,318	incomplete year
2018-19	$330,543	incomplete year
2019-20	$277,642	$191,223
2020-21	$281,109	$172,638
2021-22	$336,128	$221,684
2022-23	$329,512	$213,532
2023-24	$340,367	$234,743
2024-25	$393,667	$284,550
2025-26	not yet published	$354,089

The AFR total for object 620 covers all energy (gas, electricity, fuel). Bill-list electricity sums every General Fund check coded to object 622 on board-approved check registers, grouped by check date into July-June years. Only years with checks in at least 11 months are shown. Every check is listed with its BoardDocs file in energy_checks_622.csv[20][26].
